Address and Manage Crowds & Emergency Situations, With Our Rechargeable Megaphones

Communicating in large open spaces to large or small crowds is easy with an AmpliVox megaphone. Our lightweight, battery operated megaphones are essential to your public address activities and emergency preparedness kit. In addition, our new waterproof ProMarine model is built especially tough for marine and outdoor environments.

All AmpliVox models have a comfortable pistol grip with three audible modes: talk, whistle, and siren for emergency use. They are powered by alkaline batteries or lithium-ion battery pack with integrated wall charger that plugs into any 110-240V AC outlet.

The exclusive battery indicator light feature only be found on AmpliVox megaphones lets your always know the status of your battery life and how much power you have left for maximum safety and security.

The Lithium-ion battery pack delivers up to twice as much operating time as standard batteries with no memory effect; recharge whenever you like. The battery charger is built-into the battery case with LED charge status indicator and automatic charge protection that stops charging when battery is completely full.

Several models – the S604, S601R, S602R and S602MR – have the new Piezo Dynamic Technology making these lighter and louder than other megaphones. Piezo Dynamic Technology is a revolutionary technique that allows a megaphone to operate more efficiently with less than half the weight of all other brands.

AmpliVox megaphones are “Commercial Industrial” quality, made from a durable ABS plastic construction that can take abuse.
